What's New In Canon MP Navigator EX?

The driver update utility software is designed to update the software included with all Canon products. It automatically downloads the latest version of the software required by the individual device from Canon official website. Before you begin, you need to be sure that you have removed any previous installation of the driver update utility. In case the installed application conflicts with the one which is already on your computer, you will be prompted to uninstall it before the installation process can begin. After you remove the previous installation, you can start the driver update utility. In order to download the updated version of the driver, click on the Start button. It will then launch the software and you can follow the prompts. The new driver update utility will be installed, and the software will also be automatically removed. You can now close the application. If you have a Canon inkjet printer, you can now download a free inkjet printing driver update from the Canon website. This is a manual update, and you are required to perform it manually yourself. You are only required to change the file name of the one which is already on your computer. Canon recommends that you update the driver only after you have cleaned the cartridge of your inkjet printer. The manufacturer also suggests you to test your print quality after the update. If your printer keeps on stalling, you can always contact your local Canon service center. Canon printer drivers can be downloaded from Canon web page. You are required to enter the serial number of the printer that you are planning to update. On this page, you can also download the operating system files for your printer. You can use these files to update your printer after you install the latest version of the driver. You can now save the driver on the desktop. Open the CD or DVD which came with your printer. Select the directory in which you saved the files. Copy the files and paste them on the desktop. Open your Printers folder and locate your printer. Right-click on the printer name and select the properties option. If your printer is a Canon printer, then select the driver tab on the properties dialog. There you need to enter the serial number of your printer. This number can be found on the back of your printer. After entering this serial number, click the Install button. The installation process of the printer driver will be completed automatically. Once the installation is complete, your printer will be ready to use.
